

The Smarter Start to Every Injection.

Introducing the No-Wait Injection Protocol.

DentalJect is a pre-injection anesthetic spray that transforms the injection experience for both dentist and patient. It completely eliminates the traditional waiting period between application and injection—enhancing efficiency, reducing chair time, and elevating patient comfort.

Even the best injection technique doesn't always prevent the pain caused by the sting and pressure of the local anesthetic entering the tissue. DentalJect changes that. This cooling topical spray works instantly to block pain receptors—especially in difficult injection sites like the palatal area—in under 2 seconds. This results in meaningful practice improvements including:

- Faster injections → Better workflow and reduced chair time
- Comfortable injections → Happier patients and improved recall
- A better, modern approach → Clear practice differentiation

DentalJect enhances what happens before the injection—so every injection starts better.

The Hidden Cost of Painful Injections.

How pain impacts your practice.

Dentists experience only a 30% recall rate because of patient fear and anxiety. This can even result in cancellations or influence compliance, reviews, and referrals.

DentalJect changes all that.

By greatly reducing injection pain and discomfort, DentalJect transforms a strain on your practice into a competitive differentiator.

What that means for your practice.

The result is higher recall rates, more referrals, and a reputation for painless care.

25% of adults and 75% of children have a fear of injections.

Fear is the primary driver of missed appointments.
